

THE CROW

Montessori Integrated School of Antipolo Official Student Publication

Meet The Crow: 2025 Roster Revealed

New Faces, Familiar Voices, and a New Chapter for Our School Publication

ANSHERINA
ALLINEAH E. CRUZ

PHOTO TAKEN BY GO, FRENTE & DULIN, ETHAN | The Whole Crow Roster

EDITORS-IN-CHIEF

Leading The Crow this year are Editors-in-Chief Kaila Ancheta and Franco Baraquel, combining fresh vision with valuable experience. Kaila Ancheta leads The Crow with a heartfelt vision. She shares:

“I believe stories unite us. The Crow gives voice to moments worth remembering. I want it to feel alive — like a scrapbook of memories we’re still living, where every student feels seen, proud, and connected”

Partnering with her is Franco Baraquel, a visionary leader whose experience as last year’s Editor-in-Chief continues to inspire and strengthen the team. Franco’s steady guidance and insightful leadership drive the publication forward, ensuring The Crow honors its rich legacy while boldly embracing innovation.

ASSOCIATE EDITOR

Fiona Sibal infuses every story with passion and creativity. Reflecting on her journey, she says:

“I joined The Crow to nurture my love for photography and storytelling. As Associate Editor, I’m excited to help bring these stories to life and create a vibrant space that welcomes and inspires all students.”

MANAGING EDITOR

Jasmine Tolentino combines creativity and precision, ensuring every issue flows seamlessly. She explains:

“Every story—whether of a person, event, or object—deserves to be told. I want to breathe life into these stories and leave The Crow stronger than ever.”

The seniors of The Crow play a vital role alongside the Crow Heads in shaping the publication’s success. These senior leaders mentor their juniors and contributors, ensure high-quality work, and help maintain a cohesive, vibrant publication that reflects the spirit and stories of the school community.

PHOTO TAKEN BY RHIAN ANGELA | The CROW Seniors

As we step into a new school year, The Crow welcomes a fresh roster of passionate students, some new to the publication and others returning with a wealth of experience.

PHOTO TAKEN BY GO, FRENTE & DULIN, ETHAN

Named after the intelligent, observant bird known for its watchful eye and sharp voice, The Crow stands as a symbol of student awareness, creativity, and courage. It listens, it speaks, and it remembers. From striking visuals to thought-provoking articles, from heartfelt literary pieces to moments frozen in photographs, The Crow captures the heartbeat of our school.

Behind this passionate group of student writers, editors, artists, and photographers stands a supportive team of mentors. Under the thoughtful guidance of Ms. Tin, Ms. Beth, and Doc Monica, The Crow continues to soar higher each year. Their encouragement and wisdom help shape our work — reminding us that storytelling is not just about reporting facts, but about connecting hearts.

PHOTO TAKEN BY RHIAN ANGELA | The CROW Heads

THE CROW

Montessori Integrated School of Antipolo Official Student Publication

PHOTO TAKEN BY RHIAN ANGELA | Feature News Team

CURRENT NEWS TEAM

The Current News department captures everyday moments and important updates, turning them into stories that keep the school community informed and connected.

Senior:

Ansherina Cruz leads the team with experience and passion, ensuring even the smallest yet meaningful moments are brought to life through engaging storytelling.

Juniors:

Michaela Aguila and Hannah Cruz contribute actively by researching, writing, and adding fresh energy to the department's coverage of daily school events and important news.

Contributors:

Hailey Gabrielle and Seline Roque support the team by capturing key moments through writing and observation, helping to ensure that no significant detail goes unnoticed in the school's daily life.

FEATURE NEWS TEAM

The Feature News department highlights the school's most important events and milestones.

Senior:

Aeron Tomas leads the team, overseeing coverage and guiding storytelling to ensure every major event is captured with depth and meaning.

Junior:

Gabriel Marcos contributes by researching and writing, bringing fresh perspectives to feature stories.

Contributors:

Eidelle Flores, Pocholo Dela Cruz, and Joaquin Ledesma provide essential support by gathering details, conducting interviews, and helping craft stories that vividly bring the school's biggest moments to life.

PHOTO TAKEN BY RHIAN ANGELA | Current News Team

ENGLISH LITERARY TEAM

The English Literary department dives into reflective, thought-provoking, and meaningful pieces that explore student experiences and personal insights.

Senior:

Bian Macabiog leads the team with thoughtful direction, helping shape works that challenge, inspire, and speak to the student experience in powerful and relatable ways.

Juniors:

Elise Flores and Hermione Baligod contribute with depth and creativity, helping develop content that is both introspective and relevant to today's youth.

Contributors:

Leila Avelino, Raven Kaufman, and Zoe Sacala enrich the section with diverse voices and perspectives, offering well-crafted pieces that reflect the heart and mind of the student community.

PHOTO TAKEN BY RHIAN ANGELA | English Literary Team

THE CROW

Montessori Integrated School of Antipolo Official Student Publication

PHOTO TAKEN BY RHIAN ANGELA | Feature News Team

CARTOONISTS TEAM

The Cartoonists department adds character, humor, and creativity to The Crow through hand-drawn illustrations, visual storytelling, and expressive artwork that reflect student life with a playful and meaningful touch.

Seniors:

Zoe Terrible and Zakia Fernando co-lead the team, combining their artistic vision and experience to guide the creation of compelling and imaginative cartoon content that enhances the publication's personality.

Juniors:

Shainah Laberinto and Shantelle Esperanza bring energy and creativity, helping turn ideas into engaging visuals that connect with readers and bring stories to life.

Contributors:

Natalia Derillo, Joelle Jawili, Chloe Mendiola, Angel Bañez, and Yoko Vista contribute their artistic talents by illustrating comic strips, visual commentaries, and original concepts that add color, humor, and emotion to every issue.

FILIPINO LITERARY TEAM

The Filipino Literary department celebrates the richness of the Filipino language and culture through meaningful written works that reflect student life, values, and identity.

Senior:

Yashika Quiros leads the team with a deep appreciation for Filipino literature, guiding contributors in expressing authentic voices through essays, stories, and reflective pieces.

Contributor:

Vince Allermo supports the department by crafting thoughtful works in Filipino that highlight everyday experiences, traditions, and perspectives unique to our culture and community.

PHOTO TAKEN BY RHIAN ANGELA | Current News Team

ILLUSTRATORS TEAM

The Illustrators department brings The Crow to life visually, designing layouts, artwork, and graphics that give each page style, cohesion, and creative depth.

Senior:

Eurizze Perez leads the team with remarkable artistic skill and a strong eye for design. Building on her experience from previous years, she ensures that every issue not only looks polished and cohesive but also tells a story through visuals. Her leadership and creativity set the tone for the publication's visual identity, making each piece feel intentional and impactful.

Juniors:

Sofia Morales and Deanne Zenarosa support the team with vibrant ideas and design contributions, helping to maintain the artistic standard and consistency throughout each issue.

Contributors:

Aguila Solis, Arabella Desamparado, Kevin Maligaya, and Marion Rafael add their creative touches through illustrations, graphic elements, and layout support—ensuring that every visual detail enhances the reading experience.

PHOTO TAKEN BY RHIAN ANGELA | English Literary Team

THE CROW

Montessori Integrated School of Antipolo Official Student Publication

PHOTOGRAPHY TEAM

The Photographers department captures the heartbeat of the school—every milestone, moment, and memory—through compelling and well-timed images that bring The Crow to life.

Senior:

Yuan Tabor leads the photography team with both technical skill and creative vision. Drawing from his experience in photography and visual storytelling, he ensures that every shot reflects the emotion and energy of each event.

Juniors:

Kaitlyn Santos and Benn Carino support the team with fresh perspectives and a sharp eye for capturing dynamic and candid moments throughout campus life.

Contributors:

Yuri Dulin, Arkin Cruz, Frente Macalibog, Ian Mirador, Jachelle Javier, Mia Asuncion, Miguel Gamalindo, Renato Almoguera, Rhian Angela Gabriel, Miranda Leyva, and Ruth Sula help document a wide range of events, ensuring no important moment goes unseen. Their work enhances each story, turning memories into lasting images for the school community.

PHOTO TAKEN BY RHIAN ANGELA | Photography Team

PHOTO TAKEN BY RHIAN ANGELA | Sports News Team

SPORTS NEWS TEAM

The Sports News department captures the spirit of competition, teamwork, and school pride by covering athletic events and highlighting the achievements of our student-athletes. From intense game-day moments to behind-the-scenes stories, this team brings the pulse of campus sports to the pages of The Crow.

Senior:

Quentin Garcia leads the Sports News team with a deep passion for athletics and a strong sense of storytelling. His leadership ensures that each sports article not only reports the facts but also celebrates the hard work and dedication of our teams and athletes.

Junior:

Aaron Gida brings energy and focus to the department, covering games with precision and providing fresh insight into the school’s sports scene. His coverage captures both the thrill of victory and the heart of the hustle.

Contributors:

Adriel Bernardo, Chelsea Macabiog, and Aden Sanchez lend their talents by reporting from the sidelines, interviewing players and coaches, and diving into the details of each match.

As The Crow takes flight once again this school year, it does so with a renewed spirit—rooted in experience, driven by fresh ideas, and united by a shared purpose. More than just a student publication, The Crow is a living chronicle of student voice: a space where stories are told, memories are preserved, and every individual finds a piece of themselves on the page. With each article, illustration, photograph, and idea, this team of passionate crows continues to build something lasting—something that connects, celebrates, and reflects the heart of our school. Here’s to another year of telling stories that matter.

To see The Crow beyond the pages, follow us on Instagram @crowofmis. There, we bring our stories to life through event highlights, features, and visual snapshots of our work in action. It’s a space where creativity meets community—updated regularly to keep you informed, inspired, and connected to the voices that shape our school.